Financing

On 25 June 2019 Beter Bed Holding N.V. announced to be in discussion with banks on liquidity and covenants

On 19 July 2019 agreement with banks and shareholders was announced on (i) short-term liquidity, (ii) waivers of defaults, (iii) process for transition to a Group excluding Matratzen Concord including amending covenants

On 31 July 2019 further details of the shareholders' loans were announced, as part of the short-term liquidity plan

In the unexpected event that the exit of Matratzen Concord will not take place as planned, the Group will engage with the banks on the financing arrangements, and / or review options for additional liquidity sources

All other items

Clear focus will be on (i) driving the positive momentum in the continued operations, and (ii) successfully completing the Matratzen Concord exit

No further update on BASF

After a successful exit of Matratzen Concord the Group will start the process to refinance the credit facility and shareholders' loans that both expire mid-2020

The Group reconfirms the mid-term financial ambitions of (i) 4-5% sales growth (LFL; continued operations), and (ii) EBITDA margin of 7-9% (excluding IFRS 16; continued operations)

Q&A

John Kruijssen
Hugo van den Ochtend

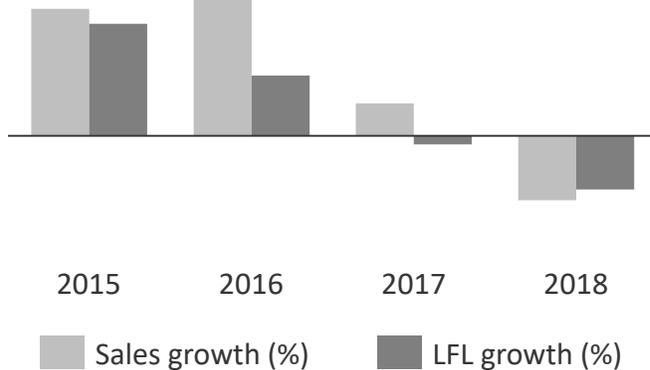

Since 2015 Matratzen Concord performance deteriorated

Over-coverage of stores

- 1000+ stores in Germany, Austria & Switzerland (per 31-12-2017)
- Low sales per store with high fixed costs cause topline sensitivity and inflexibility

LFL & sales development

Complex assortment

- Too broad range of products
- No clear good-better-best logic
- Assortment not fitting discounter proposition
- No clear added value of brands
- Gross margin bleeders
- Unclear price & promotions

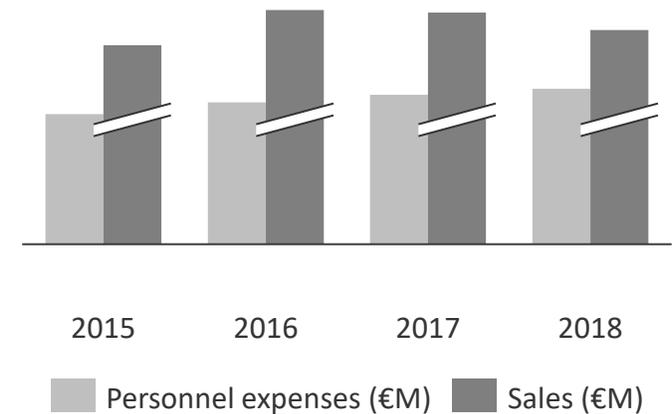

Consumer experience¹⁾

- ☹️ Too much complexity
- 😞 Choice paradox: black box
- 😡 Time consuming & frustrating
- 😞 Don't care & take shortcuts

Too high cost

- High sales overhead costs
- High inventory (obsolete products, slow-moving inventory)
- Oversized regional HQ for Matratzen Concord in Germany, Austria & Switzerland

People cost & sales

1) Based on customer survey amongst >1000 customers and non-customers in Germany

A short-term restructuring has been executed in H2 2018, bringing substantial cost reductions in MC

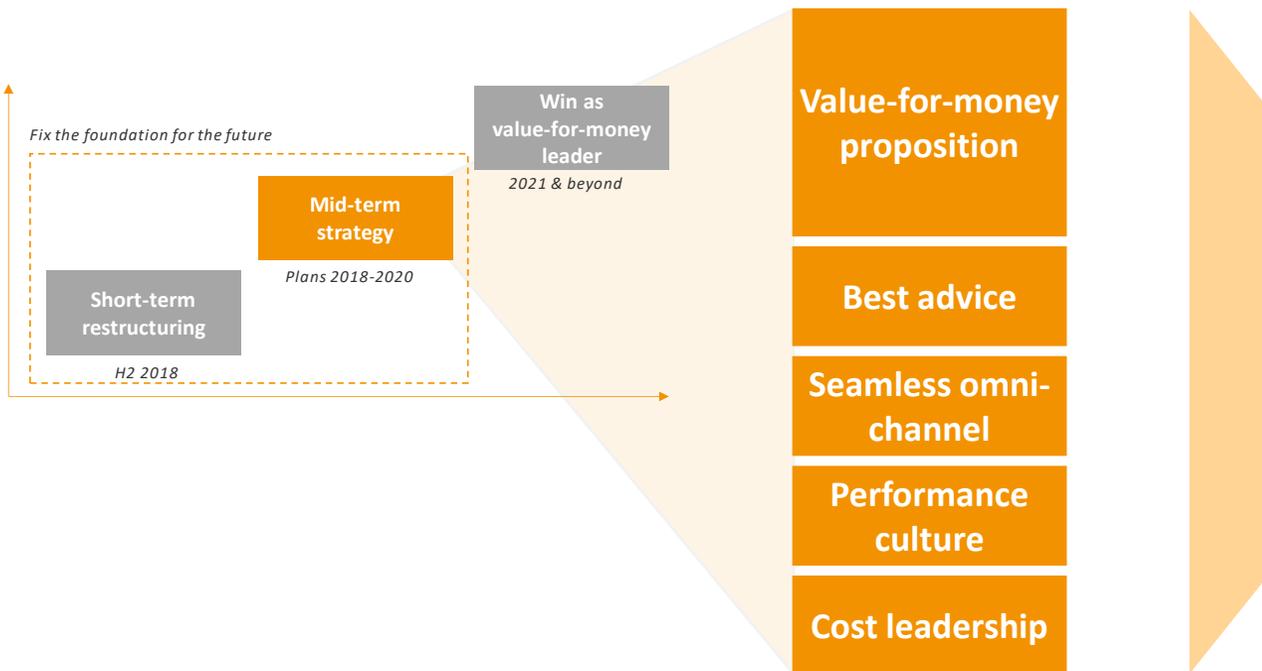

Short-term restructuring will provide a solid basis for future growth...

... resulting in a € 6 million EBIT impact for MC Germany in 2019

First signs of improvement following the mid-term strategy are present, but results effectuate too gradually

The mid-term strategy was initiated in Q4-2018....

... some first results are showing

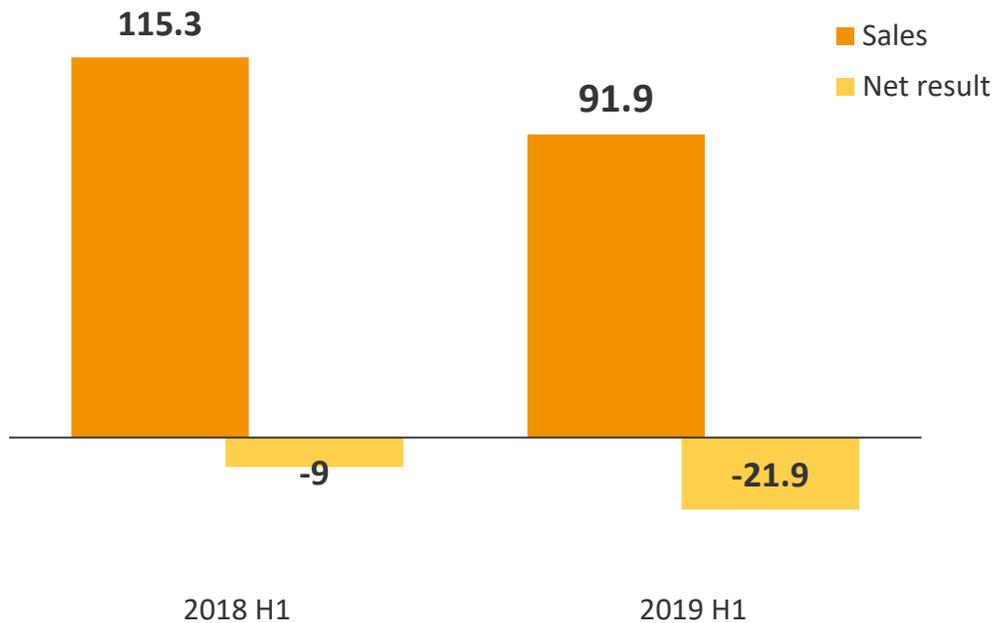

- ✓ Rationalised assortment and added 3 new successful brands: Irisette, Dreams and Octaspring
- ✓ Piloted new layouts at 2 stores, resulting in pilot store LFL growth of up to 40%
- ✓ Launched products at Amazon and grown online channel share
- ✓ Improved incentive system, revised dashboards and initiated new trainings
- ✓ Reduced net working capital with 10%

Despite all operational improvements, the financial results remain below expectations

Discontinued operations financial performance

Sales and financial performance

Total sales and net result in million €
Discontinued operations

Comments

- Discontinued operations comprise Matratzen Concord in Germany, Austria and Switzerland
- Net result includes operational loss of € 15.2 million, driven by lower sales and lower gross margin
 - 29 stores closed and 2 stores opened in the three countries during H1 2019
 - LFL sales of -9.8%
- Total DTA impairment of € 6.7 million
- Financial impact of the exit of Matratzen Concord is not possible to reliably estimate and, therefore, not included

An exit is explored since more time would be needed for full recovery

Press release

Uden, the Netherlands, 25 June 2019

Beter Bed Holding investigates alternatives for future of Matratzen Concord and is in constructive dialogue with banks on required financing arrangements

Strategy update:

- Beter Bed Holding launched a new strategy in October 2018, which has resulted in a strong performance in the Benelux region and an improving performance in Sweden. However, the recovery of Matratzen Concord turns out to be more time-consuming than initially anticipated, which is causing liquidity constraints.
- To ensure a stable financial platform for the short-term, Beter Bed Holding is in constructive dialogue with the banks to address short-term liquidity, to temporarily waive the covenant testing of 30 June 2019, and to work with each other with the intent to consider a longer-term financing solution that is aligned with the new structure when certain milestones have been met. As part of this dialogue, Beter Bed Holding has agreed to provide the banks security on certain assets.
- Beter Bed Holding has initiated the investigation of various alternatives for a full or partial exit of Matratzen Concord.
- The key focus of Beter Bed Holding will be to accelerate the strong performance in especially the Benelux region, which performs ahead of plan in both profitability and sales growth. Increased focus will be on the already improving performance in Sweden, and on boosting the Digital and Wholesale channels, where the current growth rates are ahead of what was initially anticipated.

John Kruijssen, CEO of Beter Bed Holding, comments:

"Since the launch of our new strategy in October 2018 we see increasing signs that our initiatives are paying off for most of our regions, but to a lesser extent for Matratzen Concord.

To accelerate the momentum in the Benelux region, we have decided to increase our focus on this profitable business to drive faster growth. We are also pleased with the improving performance in Sweden, and will boost the very promising Digital and Wholesale channels for the whole Group.

Matratzen Concord is experiencing continued difficult market circumstances and the expected turnaround will require more time and more liquidity funding to materialise. Although we see some promising first signs following the actions taken at Matratzen Concord, the results are not what we had planned for. To limit financial impact on the group and to ensure that Matratzen Concord can gain momentum, we will investigate the options for a full or partial exit.

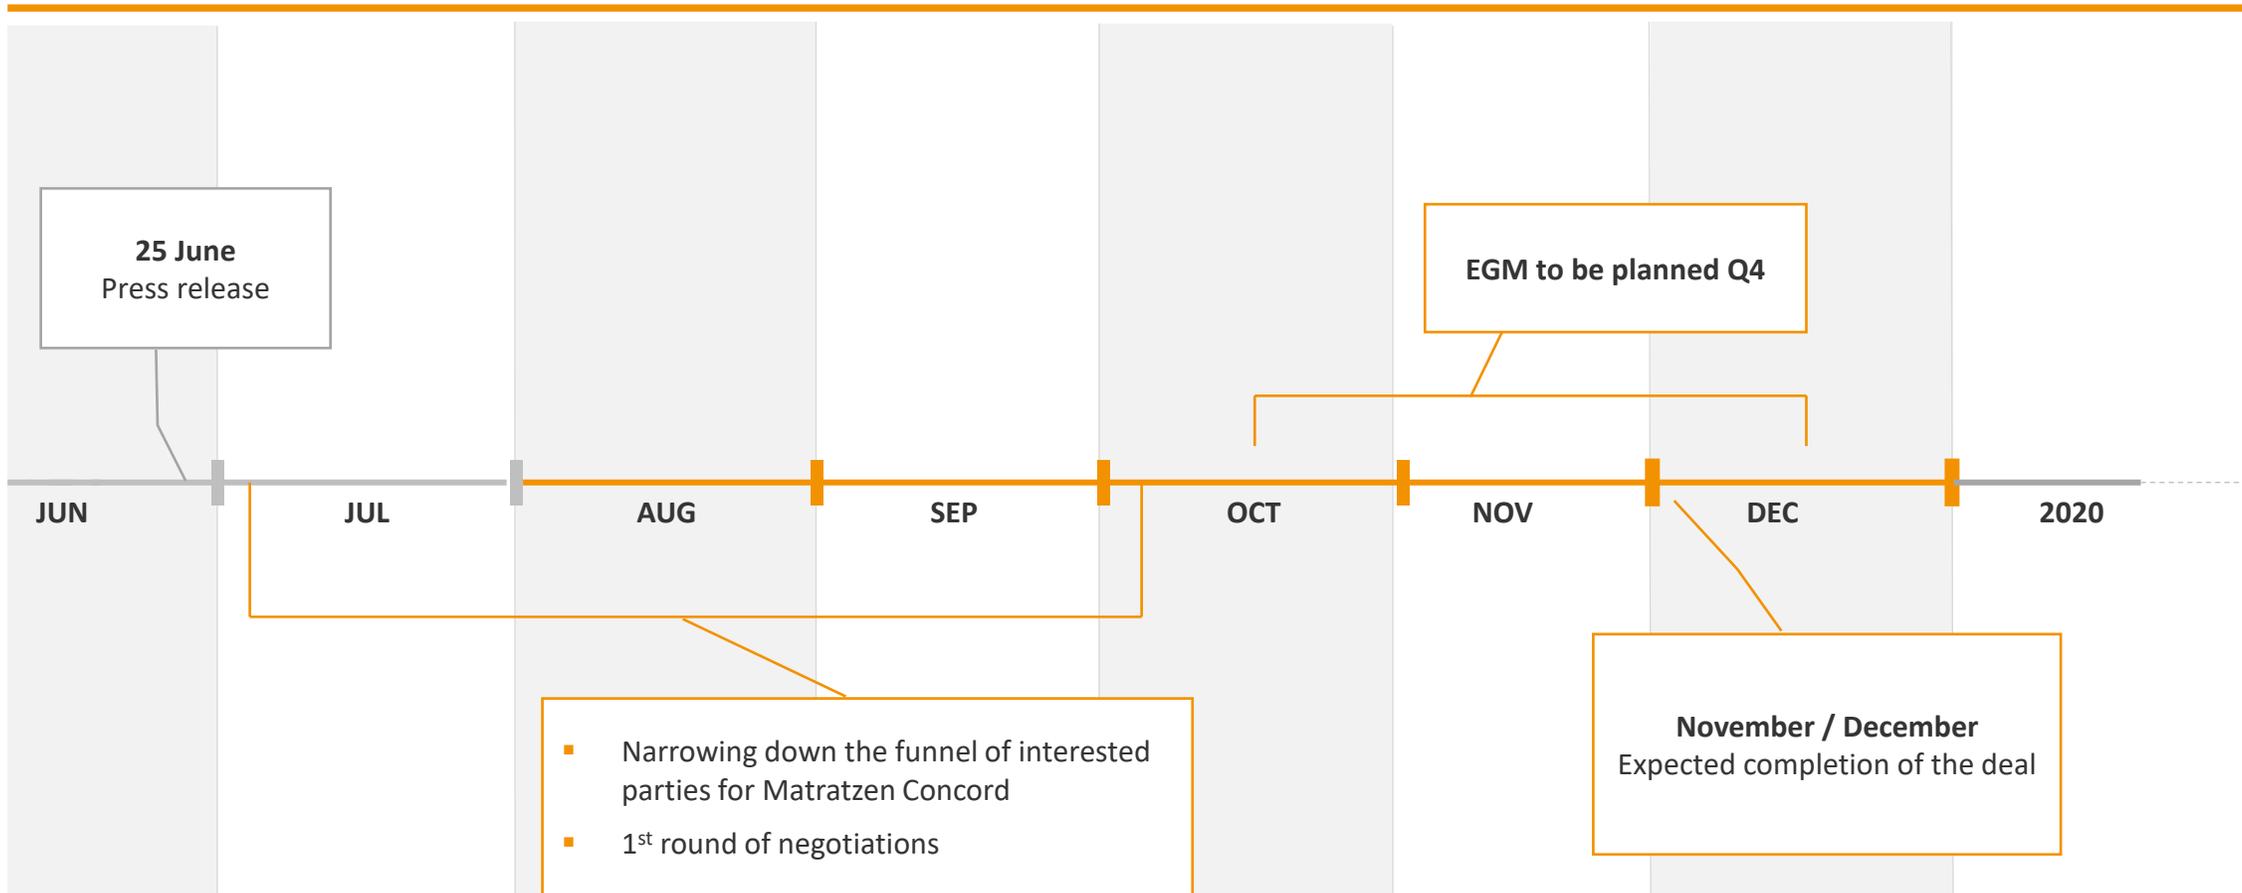

The slower recovery process of Matratzen Concord has a significant impact on both the funding need and the financing arrangements of Beter Bed Holding. We have started constructive dialogues with our banks to address the increased funding need, to temporarily waive the covenant testing of 30 June 2019, to ensure a stable platform for Beter Bed Holding for the short-term, and to work with each other with the intent to consider a longer-term financing solution that is aligned with the new structure when certain milestones have been met. As part of this dialogue, we will provide our banks security on certain assets.
