Beter Bed Holding begins cooperation with sleep expert Dr Merijn van de Laar

"Everyone can learn to sleep better"

Beter Bed Holding (BBH) is expanding its sleep knowledge network in line with its Sleep Manifesto. The sleep specialist is joining forces with Dr Merijn van de Laar, sleep scientist and author of the book Slapen als een oermens [Sleep Like a Prehistoric Man]. Together, Beter Bed and Merijn are committed to increasing awareness of the importance of sufficient quality of sleep among a wide audience. BBH has focused for years on improving sleep as part of its "Sleep better, live better" brand promise. With that in mind, the sleep specialist released a sleep manifesto earlier this year and is working with numerous experts, both Dutch and foreign, in the field of sleep.

Improved sleep makes people happier, healthier, and more productive. It has been scientifically proven that conditions such as Alzheimer's disease, cancer, obesity, and diabetes are linked to insufficient quality of sleep. A good night's sleep helps reduce stress and improves vitality. Beter Bed and Merijn van de Laar want to make Dutch and Belgian people aware of the importance of sleep, including by means of scientific interpretation, online content, and a webinar on sleep and health. He will also support Beter Bed in developing innovations that help customers to sleep better.

Merijn van de Laar explains: "We sleep a large part of our lives, and for good reason. Important recovery processes take place while we are asleep, muscle growth is stimulated, and our immune system is reinforced. Sleep is also important for your mood and ability to think. In addition, sleep is important for your mood and thinking ability. When things go wrong with sleep, it often affects your work and private life, and your energy and mood can suffer greatly. About one in five Dutch people struggle with insomnia. Thanks to more insights into what contributes to a good quality of sleep, and with the help of concrete tips and recommendations, everyone can learn to sleep better. I am delighted that I can use my scientific knowledge and experience as a partner of Beter Bed to help the Dutch and Belgians sleep and live better"

Perijn Hoefsloot, responsible for marketing, customer experience, and strategic business development at BBH, comments: "BBH is convinced that everyone can sleep better. Using the latest technological devices, our sleep experts provide customers with independent, customised sleep advice, both online and in our stores. Our "Sleep better, live better" mission fits in seamlessly with Merijn's own mission to "help everyone sleep better". Merijn is a recognized sleep expert with a merited reputation in the field of sleep education, prevention of sleep problems among employees of companies, and coaching of healthcare providers in treating sleep problems. All this is based on the latest scientific insights and evidence-based treatments and techniques. We are proud and delighted that Merijn van de Laar wishes to join us in our mission."

Sleep better, live better.
